Understand the Types of Study Abroad Programs

WHAT TO KNOW

Your main options: direct enrollment (you enroll at a local university — the most immersive), exchange (through your home university—s partnership — you pay home tuition), third-party provider programs (which bundle courses, housing, and support — the most guided), and faculty-led short programs (a few weeks with your own professors). Understand Credit Transfer & Academics

WHAT TO KNOW

Credits use the ECTS system (30 ECTS ≈ a full semester). Before you go, get your courses pre-approved by your home study-abroad and academic advisors so credits transfer cleanly toward your degree. You'll receive a transcript to bring home — keep syllabi and coursework in case of later evaluation.

Know the Costs & Funding

WHAT TO KNOW

Costs vary by route: exchange students usually pay home tuition; provider programs charge a program fee (bundling tuition, housing, and support); direct enrollment means affordable public tuition (or fees for non-EU), plus your living costs. Malta—s cost of living is moderate. Look into scholarships (the Gilman (US students), Erasmus+ (Europeans), and provider aid), and check whether your financial aid travels with you.

EU/EEA students don't need a visa. Non-EU students staying over 90 days need a student residence permit (with proof of funds and insurance). You'll typically show proof of acceptance, sufficient funds, housing, and health insurance. Shorter programs often need only standard Schengen entry. Start early — the process takes time.
